YOLA, NIGERIA—Suspected Islamic militants attacked a wedding convoy over the weekend, the latest in a storm of violence in northeast Nigeria as government troops battle religious extremists bent on turning Africa's most populous nation into an Islamic state.

Authorities gave conflicting accounts Sunday of the death toll — ranging from five to as many as 30, including the groom.

Rudolph, unsorry, gets life for abortion clinic bombing

From staff and wire reports

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Eric Rudolph, the Olympics bomber who spent five years on the lam, lashed out in court Monday against abortion before he was sentenced to life in prison without parole for bombing a women's clinic here in 1998.

Eric Rudolph, facing sentencing Monday, calls his plea agreement "purely a tactical choice on my part."
